NORWAY AND VICINITY.

A Star Course of Entertainments.

There will be a Star Course of entertainments given in Norway this winter, commencing soon, when Prof. C. H. Wilson, a magician, will give the first of the entertainments, and on January 18th an illustrated lecture on Labrador will be given by Dr. Frederick M. Brooks. The three remaining entertainments will consist of the Harvard Male Quartet with reader, the dramatic recital of Leah by Mrs. Charlotte Adams Dunne, and an entertainment by the Boston Carnival and Concert Co.

These five entertainments are all of the highest artistic merit and will be well worth the price of admission, as they will be instructive as well as entertaining. These will be given at the Opera House.

This Star Course has been arranged under the auspices of a committee consisting of Mrs. B. F. Bradbury, Mrs. W. E. Jones, Mrs. Geo. Cummings, Mrs. M. W. Sampson, Charles F. Ridlon and Rev. E. C. Ward.

This is not a money making scheme, but an endeavor to give the community a course of entertainments by artists who command high prices and will appear in first class courses in the largest cities this winter. Although the expense of this course is very large the committee believes the people of Norway appreciate entertainment of the highest merit and hopes that the sale of the course tickets will meet the cost of the course.

The W. C. T. U.

The October meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. E. C. Wentworth was hostess and Mrs. Mary Smith, who attended the State Convention at Bangor, furnished an excellent report of the convention doings. The splendid address of Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens and State Superintendent of schools, Payson Smith, were read in full by Mrs. Alice Stearns and Mrs. Edith Bartlett, and were listened to with great interest by the large number of ladies present. The next meeting will be Nov. 5 with Mrs. Ella Noyes, Crescent street, and Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis' convention address will be read.

The Bear's hotel has a revolving register holder with advertising.

Mrs. Mary Linnell has gone to Newton, Mass., for the winter.

Wm. H. Fellows has been visiting at E. A. Rich's for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mann spent Sunday at Mrs. Mann's home on Paris Hill.

Mrs. R. F. D. Stibley from Sanbornville, N. H., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Longley.

James Dean moved his household goods to Auburn, Tuesday, where he will make his future home.

Carl Leighton finished work at the shoe factory Wednesday, and left Thursday morning to take up his work at Lowell, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cullinan are hoping to get their new house on Orchard street done so as to move into it by Thanksgiving.

The annual collection for the post-office mission and general mission work of the Y. P. C. U. will be taken next Sunday evening at the Universalist church.

Ed Pike and her friend, Annie McDonald of Portland spent Sunday with Miss Pike's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Pike. Frank Pike of Auburn was also a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Pike, Sunday.

Mrs. M. W. Sampson, who clerks at S. E. & Z. S. Prince's, has been out of the store for a few weeks on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. W. W. Whitmarsh, but who is much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Danforth go to Southern Pines, N. C., next week for the winter. They have spent several winters there at a hotel, but this winter they go to their own house, which they have bought there.

Rev. J. M. Little exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Ward last Sunday. Mr. Little preached a very interesting sermon taking for his text "We do fade as the leaf" and he held the closest attention of the audience to the last word of the sermon. There was a large number of Mr. Little's friends and former parishioners of South Paris present.

Eliam Libby has made a pair of andirons for Ed. Rowe of New York and they are on exhibition in Miss Libby's studio window. On the upper part of the andiron is a nickel beetle and on the other andiron is a nickel snake coiled around the standing pipe in the three nickel links of the Old Fellows emblem. On the other andiron is the heart and nickel links and a nickel hatchet.

Harry E. Gibson has bought the stock in trade of the grain mill of A. C. McCollis and leased the mill. He has taken possession and is now doing business there. This is a big business, and was too much for Mr. McCollis to do, formerly, his health is not as good as formerly. He has been engaged in the grain, flour and mill business in Norway a good many years, and the town regrets his feeling that he must give up active business.

Mrs. J. D. Haynes of South Paris, Mass., and Charles Abbott of Abington, Mass., and Harriet Newell of Sumner spent the day, Wednesday, with Mrs. Harry Mann. Miss Newell is 93 years old and Wednesday morning left her home in Sumner, where she had lived for 50 years, and returned to the same way, Thursday, making the journey alone. She is making plans to go to Boston for a visit soon. Miss Newell is Mrs. Harry Mann's great aunt, and is exceptionally smart for a lady of her years.

Harry Packard, formerly of Norway, owns a farm at Presport and this fall harvested a large crop of potatoes there.

H. Knox Bickford finished work for C. F. Ridlon and returned to Shaw's business college, Portland, Monday forenoon.

Mrs. Leon Yeaton has got settled in the tenement over the shoe store, and is now ready to give lessons in music. See ad. in another column.

Wednesday evening the Junior class of the N. H. S. held a Halloween party at the Barker Farm on the Oxford road. This farm has been the scene of other Halloween parties in the past, and many remember the good times enjoyed. Like the others—long to be remembered. Each Junior invited a friend and the party left early in the evening. They raked en route to the farm where an oyster supper with all the fixings appropriate to Halloween was served.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER
(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

OCTOBER 29, 1909, NORWAY, MAINE.

W. R. C. Notes.

Harry Rust Corps recently entertained George Knight Corps of Waterford. Dinner was served at noon, one of the kind that the Corps is noted for. At 1:30 p. m., Etta Noyes, president of local Corps, opened the meeting in the usual form and the work of the order was fully exemplified by its officers and members. After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. The guests expressed themselves as much pleased with their visit and extended an invitation for Harry Rust Corps to meet with them in the near future.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 26th, Harry Rust Corps gave a reception to Mr. and Mrs. George Whitman, who are about to leave for their winter home in Florida. The reception took the form of a Hawaiian feast and the guests were much in evidence. To be sure they got there a little ahead of time but as this was a special occasion they consented to come. The hall presented a scene fully up to the requirements of a genuine Hawaiian party and was decorated with black crepe paper and the rays which radiated from them gave the desired weird glow. As the guests arrived they were met at the door by six ghostly figures—people from this world in reality who wore white masks, peaked caps and white flowing garments,—who escorted them into the hall to the music of chanting chains and jingling bells. The tables were decorated with black cats, jack-o-lanterns and ordinary lanterns. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, pumpkin pies, doughnuts and gingerbread were served. Games to which there was no end, till a late hour when all departed much pleased with the spending of such a pleasant evening.

Wednesday morning about twenty of the W. R. C. and the Post left Norway early in the forenoon with flags unfurled to the breeze to spend the day in Oxford, guests of the T. A. Roberts Post and Women's Relief Corps who had extended them an invitation to attend their campfire. The usual fine dinner was served at noon provided for the ladies of the Oxford Corps. A program was given during the afternoon.

School Notes.

Sarah Freeman, who has been teaching at the Center, was obliged to resign on account of illness. The patrons of the school were very sorry to part with her. Supt. Felch was enabled to engage Grace Cutts of Kittery to continue the school. Miss Cutts has been taking the Teachers' training course at Portsmouth and is thus able to enter upon her work with a zest and intelligent understanding of her work that promises much for the success of this school.

Agnes Plummer, who is teaching the Waterford Flat school, was visiting the Norway schools last week. Some of the other Waterford teachers plan to visit the grade teachers to observe the methods of these trained teachers.

Most of the Norway teachers and some of the Waterford teachers will attend the State Teachers' Association meeting at Lewiston, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Grace Blackwood has been confined to the house for a few days, but much better. She will accompany her sister, Elsie Blackwood, to their home in Westbrook for a brief visit.

Grange Fair.

Owing to having to wait for lumber for the finish of the new Grange Hall, the Grange Fair will not be as early as it was hoped to have it, but if there are no more delays, it will probably be the third week in November. The following are the committees as far as appointed:

First day—Lizzie R. Howe, Lolla Watson, Georgia Curtis, Addie Thurston, Edith Russell, Agnes Towne, Minnie Bangs, Etta Pierce, Elsie Blackwood, Mrs. E. A. Packard, Chas. A. Frost.

Second day—Lucy Gove, Annie Barnes, Lilla Morrill, Bessie Gove, Lolla Watson, Elsie Blackwood, Mrs. E. A. Packard, Chas. A. Frost, Elsie Blackwood, Mrs. E. A. Packard, Chas. A. Frost.

Answers Every Call

Norway People Have Found That This Is True.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench, a little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spills of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A certain remedy for such attacks, Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific. Many Norway people rely on it. Here is Norway proof.

S. C. Foster, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and am able to speak highly in their favor. Several years ago my kidneys began to trouble me and learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box. It was not long after commencing their use that I felt much better. I was free from kidney trouble until recently when a cold brought on another attack. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Stone's drug store and after taking a few doses, I was relieved of every symptom of the trouble. Whenever I have taken this remedy it has never failed to help me and I therefore speak highly in its favor when an opportunity occurs."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.

Charms That Bring Luck.

Superstitions and Fads from Over all the World.

All the world over, in both uncivilized areas and such enlightened countries as Great Britain, there are many people who still place their implicit trust in a charm to bring them good fortune and in not a few cases will expect it to heal them of disease. The tongues of animals have been and are still favorite amulets.

A tongue cut from a living fox is said to ward off diseases of all kinds, but as the person carrying it will surely die if he happens to meet a fox on any cross-roads, the charm is seldom used.

The roads, the charm is seldom used. The tongue of the vulture plucked out with a iron and hung about a man's neck in a new cloth will bring him what he desires, and some Indians believe that if they do not bite off the tip of the tongue of any wild animal they kill they will not have good luck hunting.

Feathers of birds, too, have also been used from earliest times to insure luck, good and evil. If the feathers of a vulture are burned the small drives away serpents and other evil spirits.

The feathers of the right wing of a blackbird are hung up in the middle of a house on a red thread which has never been used, no one will be able to sleep in that house until the wing has been taken down.

Eskimos court good favor by fixing feathers from the golden eagle at the bows of their boats. Friends can also be frightened away by means of a vulture's heart bound up in a lion or wolf skin.

The head of a kite bird worn on the breast, according to our forefathers, brought the love and favor of all men and women, while if the heart of a sleeping woman, she would confess to all the wrong she had done. If a woman wore the heart of a turtle dove wrapped in the skin of a wolf she would ever be faithful.

The Irish believe that to nail a bat over the house door prevents the magician from entering. A saying which, curiously, is still current is that if one picks his teeth with the nail of the middle toe of an owl he will never have the toothache.

The natives of Borneo in west Africa keep the bones and nails of elephants as charms for good luck. The people of upper Egypt prize very highly the tufts of hair from the mane of the hyena, and the skin of this animal will secure for the possessor the love and faithfulness of a husband or wife as well as the favor of the great.

The Chinese believe the monkey to be entitled to sacred honors and that any house built on the bones of one of these animals will be cursed. The visitor to Moukatz in central Africa will be somewhat surprised to see the heads of asses arranged around the gardens of the natives. These are placed there to ward off evil spirits. The Chinese sleep quite peacefully at night if an image of a cat is on the roof of the house.

Sufferers from gout have been known to wear, tied around their legs a blue ribbon, which is studded with shells of gray snails. This is said to allay the pain. Lord Bacon says "a band of green periwinkles tied about the calf of the leg" or "wearing on the fingers rings made of sashwort teeth" will cure cramp.

No firm is the trust of the natives in these charms that in some parts of the world they are never known to take medicine.

In central Africa, for instance, the natives simply cut their nails and, tying them to the back of the crawfish, throwing the crabs over their shoulder into the river or sea without looking at it, believing the disease will go.

Gamblers are among the most superstitious people to be found and scarcely any will dare to enter the casino without their favorite charm.

A Gruesome little mascot took the form of the right forefinger bones of a seventh son of a seventh son. This strangely enough was carried by a well known theatrical lady in the form of a brooch when she visited Monte Carlo. Among those of special interest are catskins, which are worn from the neck; a human knee bone, an owl's heart, a small red feather and the tail of a lizard.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER

Subscription Rates: $1.50, $2.00 and $2.75 per year according to the time of payment. Births, marriages and death notices inserted free. Obituaries, notices of funerals, notices of church and society entertainments, notices of school and other public affairs, notices of the committee in the Draft Station class at the recent fair. If awards were made on grounds of sympathy or because of influence, the committee would not exhibit their stock or products. The Oxford County Agricultural Society did not propose to conduct their premium list that way—and therefore the American bred Percheron won the blue ribbon to the satisfaction of the people at large and especially of those breeders of high grade stock who are fortunately outside the circle of the disappointed band of owners of the "famous gold brick."

Another Spasm Answered.

To the Editor of the Advertiser:—The keeper of the "white elephant" subscription list that way—and therefore the American bred Percheron won the blue ribbon to the satisfaction of the people at large and especially of those breeders of high grade stock who are fortunately outside the circle of the disappointed band of owners of the "famous gold brick."

J. H. MILLETT. Editor:—We think the people must understand the situation by this time. Doubtless the owners of both stallions have their prejudices. There has been a mistake made in the past. We feel it would be well to call the attention of the owners of the stallions and the Oxford County Agricultural Society to the fact that the stallions are not to be exhibited in any way through the public print.

One Doctor—Only One

No sense in running from one doctor to another! Select the best one, then stand by him. No sense either in trying this thing, that thing, for your cough. Carefully, deliberately select the best cough medicine, then take it. Stick to it. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for throat and lung troubles. Sold for nearly seventy years. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Why try this thing, that thing, for your constipation? Why not stick to the good old reliable family laxative—Ayer's Pills? Ask your doctor if he approves this advice.

Farm Products. Farmers have finished harvesting and most of them have received good returns for their labor. Hay is an average crop. Farmers have a different method of laying their ground down to grass than they used to and saves considerable labor by sowing the grass seed in their sweet corn the second time of hoeing and think it comes up stronger, than when sown with the grain. Sweet corn was a little better than an average crop although the frost hurt some pieces. There were two cornshocks running here and each one put up about 150,000 ears. Apples are not very plenty although some will have a few hundred bushels to sell, and the most of the farmers will have enough for their own use. Potatoes yielded bountifully, some pieces averaging 200 bushels or more to the acre.

G. B. Hannaford who spoke such words of consolation to our breaking hearts.

MR. AND MRS. O. J. BROOKS, FAYETTE E. BROOKS, MR. AND MRS. J. A. HEAVARD.

GRAFTON.

More About the Two Sudden Deaths. We were saddened to hear of the sudden death by accident of Martha C. Brooks, which happened on Oct. 14th on Baxter Hill, Rumford. The remains were brought to Upton and the services held in the church at that place on Monday. She has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. James Heavard, of Bethel since Mr. Brooks' death some three years ago. The burial was at Grafton. Besides this daughter, she leaves two sons, Orland J. of Portland and Fayette E. of Portland, Oregon.

At the time of the accident, Mrs. Brooks with her cousin, Mrs. West, were on their way to see her only uncle, Daniel Cummings. He heard of the accident and visited the undertaker's rooms and viewed her remains. On his return home accompanied by his niece he was stricken with heart failure and dropped dead, only a few steps from the place where his niece had met her death within the previous 24 hours. He was 56 years old. Services were held at the same hour on Monday in Rumford and Upton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Adams and son Roger are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Frost of Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Richards of North Waterford have been stopping with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sawyer, a few days the past week.

Mrs. J. C. Sawyer and grandson, Carroll McAllister, made a short visit to her brother, C. H. Stearns, of East Stoneham, who is in very poor health, Sunday.

Guests Should Not Make Suggestions.

The guest who is constantly making suggestions is not among those most truly liked. She makes her offer in good faith, but is more than apt to be interfering. She cannot know her hostess's ways and means, and her limitations and a matter that seems simple to the visitor may be fraught with impossibilities to the housekeeper.

And the best way of avoiding falling into these errors is not to make one's self too much at home when visiting.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

CHICAGO MERCHANT MAKES STATEMENT.

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 134 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently."

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

Great Care Taken in Making Spools.

White Birch from Which They are Made Must be Saved Before Warm Weather.

Few persons realize the great care necessary in the production of timber for the manufacture of the common spool sold in the stores on which thread is wound. The various steps involved in its manufacture are all most intricate.

The green logs are brought to the mill during the fall or winter in four foot lengths, and are first sawed lengthwise into bars or "squares." These bars are made four feet long, whenever possible, and are square in cross sections of various sizes, depending on the size of the spool desired.

The bars must all be sawed off before the first of June, preferably before the first of May, in order to prevent staining. Round logs with the bark on begin to stain as soon as warm weather sets in, usually about the middle of May.

Mayflower Chapter O. E. S. entertained Evergreen Chapter of Canton at their regular meeting. Supper was served in the dining hall and the work was exemplified by the local chapter.

Mrs. Weston of Portland was present as deputy and inspected the chapter. After the meeting a musical and literary program was given.

Washington Ripley Tuttle died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ada Shaw one High street, Thursday morning, Oct. 21, after a brief illness. Mr. Tuttle was one of the oldest citizens, being a few days short of eight-eight years. Mr. Tuttle had wide circle of acquaintances in this section having driven a peddler's cart years ago and afterwards canvassed for fruit trees. He was born in Turner and is survived by a widow and two children, Alton Tuttle of Merose, Mass., and Mrs. Ada Shaw of this place.

Purest Flour

"Of the various qualities of flour obtained from the same wheat, the lower grades are those most contaminated with grease, dirt, and objectionable bacteria; the freedom of flour from these, increases with its purity."

Profr. Wm. Jago, the well-known English chemist.

The purity of William Tell flour is due to the costly equipment and exceptional care to keep the grain and flour clean.

The wheat is stored in hermetically sealed tanks at the big mills of Ansted & Burk Co.

Before grinding, it is cleaned six times.

Neither grain nor flour ever touches anything but the bright, clean surfaces of dust-proof machinery. Even the flour bags are sewed up by machinery.

William Tell comes to you from the mills with all the brilliant bloom that only Ohio wheat can make.

Ask your dealer, and insist on having—
